This is the second series in cryptocurrency puzzle books by the author. A cryptocurrency address is definitely a unique string of various letters and numbers. Whomever solves the puzzle initial, and is the first to respond with the correct solution, will have usage of the Ethereum (ETH) Ether cryptocurrency deposited for the reason that account. The puzzle in this publication was created in a graphical format around that characteristic. Each reserve in Series II has a solitary cryptocurrency address. This reserve is one in a series of four books. The intent of this book is certainly for the reader to discover the Ethereum cryptocurrency address. However, the mix of the four books provides exclusive clues leading to the various other puzzle solutions. The clues in this series are built in to the puzzles. The puzzles require four main levels of deciphering. Another clue in the puzzles are the concentric bands around the dots, which are repeated values. Among the keys is usually a deciphering method which exists as public knowledge.
