This is a curated and comprehensive assortment of the most important works covering matters linked to national security, diplomacy, defense, war, strategy, and tactics. A few of the books in this Series are reproductions of historical works preserved by some of the leading libraries in the world. As with any reproduction of a historical artifact, a few of these books consist of missing or blurred pages, poor images, errant marks, etc. The collection spans centuries of thought and experience, and includes the most recent analysis of international threats, both typical and asymmetric. It also includes riveting first person accounts of historical battles and wars. We believe these books are essential to the collection and the study of war, and have as a result brought them back into printing, despite these imperfections. We hope you enjoy the unmatched breadth and depth of this collection, from the historical to the just-published works.
