This book evolves an informational theory to account for the coexistence of China's Citizens' The nuanced details contained in citizens' Gleam second manner in which citizens' First, petitions help to alleviate the info asymmetry problem that arises when the central authorities has less info than lower level governments do.s decentralized authoritarianism in 3 important ways. When studying citizens' petitions, more impressive range governments can obtain precious and accurate information regarding local officials' functionality in policy implementation, public goods provision, and corruption. More impressive range governments need these details in order to effectively utilize the cadre management program to reward good efficiency and punish malpractice. The author substantiates these factors with case research and statistical evaluation. grievances expressed through the channel of communication provided by the petition system. issues, which are filed through the petition system, helps to maintain China's petitions help the government to overcome the dictator's dilemma that arises when an authoritarian regime is uncertain about how exactly much support it really enjoys among its citizens.s exceptionally resilient authoritarianism and its own high decentralization. specific grievances are revealed in these petitions and are mostly addressed in their beginning stages. Consequently, the petition system grants the central government an opportunity to hold local officials accountable, scapegoat local authorities, divide citizens and regional officials, and justly claim all of the credit when its guidelines succeed. problems are rooted in central policy, they established the agenda for plan change to be able to maintain social order. There is yet a third benefit conferred upon the PRC by the petition system. Thanks to the petition program, the central federal government can present itself as the ally of residents when it addresses the matters raised by their petitions. When residents' This helps to build residents' rely upon their central authorities and reinforces its legitimacy to them. In Huntington's terms, the Chinese Communist Party institutionalizes mass support by addressing residents's relatively top quality of governance and effective control of neighborhood officials. In this sense, the complaints of residents can be extremely useful tools for regime maintenance. The result of this interaction may be the PRC'
