Crown Papers: 0.0 to 7.0

continue reading

A brief series of papers discussing the goals and principals informing the evolution of the Crown crypto-currency task from a simple Dash / Bitcoin clone into its unique open up source application platform, designed to be useful for commerce, computation and communication.

Updated to include the Crown Atomic announcement. The papers are intended to describe the rational for the project, and lengthen an invitation to those who find the premise and strategy interesting to get involved in creating something which could turn into a global digital commons.
