Satoshi Nakamoto: The Bitcoin Founder

Bitcoin is a type of currency that can only be used and stored electronically; It continues to be in digital form as a type of money known as cryptocurrency, it is hardly ever printed but is established by people and businesses using special computer software. it is new payment program. This made it an open source business, encouraging users to trust in it thus making Bitcoins popular and valuable. Satoshi allowed Bitcoin to be very public, where in fact the software and business codes can be accessed by anybody across the world. The business was announced in 2008 by Satoshi Nakamoto who afterwards left in mid-2010.
