Dona Gracia Nasi is the tale of a wealthy and powerful Jewish female who moved through royal courts and the elegant lives of the rich during the Renaissance. These were resettled in the Ottoman Empire where these were welcomed and discovered acceptance for Jewish existence and spiritual practice. In one of the amazing episodes of background Dona Gracia saved a large number of Sephardic households from the Inquisition and persecution. She was among the influential ladies of her time and arguably the most important Sephardic female of the last 500 years.
