Young Sokphea
Soparth Pongquan

Governance of Decentralized Commune Development Planning

Case Studies of Commune Councils in Cambodia

Young Sokphea and

Governance of Decentralized Commune Development Planning: Case Studies of Commune Councils in Cambodia

The research focuses on the applications of local great governance (LGG) in decentralized commune development planning in Cambodia. to examine the applications of LGG in the execution of CDPs; The primary objectives are to review the institutional framework and system of LGG application in CDPs; to get the perception and satisfaction of CCs users and local people on the application of LGGs in the CDPs; A couple of recommendations received to fortify the LGG in particular development levels of CDPs along with outlining key planning and policy implications to aid the overall implementation to make it more effective in the context of Cambodia. Research concluded that commune with higher achievements on the applications of LGG in CDPs is the one which had relatively longer encounter in operating and accumulating learning procedure in modifications of LGG in the CDP and also capacity of the CCs on local planning. to analyze facilitating and constraining elements in the application of LGG in CDPs also to suggest recommendations to strengthen LGG overall performance for effective execution of the CDPs and offer planning and policy implications.

download Governance of Decentralized Commune Development Planning: Case Studies of Commune Councils in Cambodia pdf

download Governance of Decentralized Commune Development Planning: Case Studies of Commune Councils in Cambodia djvu

download Agricultural and forestry residues in Brazil: Decentralized energy generation txt download free Decentralized Approach to High Performance Building Design in Tropics: Solutions to improve Indoor Environmental Quality and design buildings more efficiently pdf download free Freedom of Transit in International Investment Law: At the example of BTC pipeline legal framework djvu