Written in easy-to-read vocabulary, this series inspires children to be moral, mindful and virtuous. The Messenger of Allah (s) plus a little army of ill-equipped men attempt to lay siege of the caravan at Badr. The Battle of Badr: Information reached Madeenah of a rich caravan from Syria destined for Makkah. This was an opportunity for the Muslims to regain the wealth that Quraysh had taken from them. The books also show kids the worthiness of respect and encourages a spirit of cooperation among peers, thus teaching youngsters to enjoy a positive role in their communities. Aboo Sufyaan alerted Quraysh of the Muslims' plan to consider the caravan. Aboo Sufyaan managed to avert the attack by firmly taking an alternate path to Makkah and he informed the men from Makkah that the caravan was out of harm's way. Quraysh still left Makkah with more than 1,000 guys armed to their teeth. After several duals between your believers and the warriors of Quraysh, a fierce battle broke out that still left the Quraysh defeated and their ego crushed. The Messenger was deeply worried about Aboo Jahl's army encamped at Badr. The Messenger (s) feared that they would attack Madeenah. Therefore, he decided to face the enemy at Badr.

Aboo Jahl insisted that the army march on to Badr.
