CRYPTO CREATURES AND SUPPOSEDLY EXTINCT LIFE FORMS

John Tasker Quest Aotearoa -- Volume One

Do small bush moa still lurk in the forests of New Zealand's Fiordland? Can we dismiss all such reports out of hand? Does a shy otter-like creature frequent the waterways of the southern South Island? And what about the large unidentified creatures alleged to live in a few of the lakes there? Do Bigfoot-type hominids still prowl through New Zealand forests? Have monster tree lizards survived to the present day? Do large black cats the size of an Alsatian pup roam around the trunk nation of Canterbury and Otago? Is there any hard proof to back any of them up? After cautiously studying the material in this book it will be up to you to decide.
