Iota may be the acronymic name directed at God-or-Nature. It means the Infinite One which is certainly conceived under the Two Aspects of thought and matter. Following 17th hundred years philosopher Benedict Spinoza, from whose works he rates extensively, Wheeler shows that dualism of any sort, whether theological, philosophical or scientific, always qualified prospects to contradiction, division, and conflict, and that concerning ourselves as parts of Nature and of each other is the only way ahead to curing the divisions and conflicts between absolutist religions, cultures, and faiths. Until political and religious leaders grasp this basic concept, there will be little expect peace in the world. The most crucial implication of Iota is definitely that to harm any part of Character is to hurt our collective self.
