There are problems inside our existing capitalist system that I propose can only be solved by transitioning to real Communism. I define genuine Communism to end up being quite different than whatever occurred in Russia where it ended up as a Dictatorship. This may not really be what Marx experienced at heart when he referred to Communism as, “I describe how production can be matched with needs in the lack of cash..This book is a companion to my blog at www.realcommunism.org. I propose a highly decentralized system of local self federal government. The Emancipation of Mankind” There are various problems that arise such as for example shortages and incentive. In the initial chapter, I list all the problems in Capitalism and argue they are all reflections of the benefit system. I am opposed to an insurrection and propose to build a mass movement that can muster a vast majority of support before effecting the changeover to Communism. I propose answers to these problems and also discuss other important issues such as culture, religion, technology, and other topics that make up a description of actual Communism. I concentrate on racism as the primary bulwark of our current Capitalist program. The US is normally drifting towards Fascism as racism and Xenophobic anti immigration intensify. I claim that automation and artificial intelligence make Capitalism completely untenable as jobs vanish. In the 3rd chapter, I outline my proposal for how real Communism could be built and how I believe it could work. Automation is wonderful for us by eliminating repetitive jobs that human beings need not do. This will leave us absolute to do creative function like art, science, sports, and hobbies. Certainly emancipation has to be considered a totally democratic system. Essentially, they hardly ever really attempted to build Communism at all, but instead built another type of Capitalism. In the second chapter, I present my sights of Russian history and try to show where in fact the Russian Communists proceeded to go wrong. Please visit the blog and donate to the discussion.
