From the creator of the iconic "Cathy" comic strip comes her first collection of funny, wise, poignant, and incredibly honest essays about being a female in what she lovingly calls "the panini generation. No more confined to the limits of four comic panels, Guisewite holds out her submit prose form and becomes a reassuring companion for those on the threshold of "what happens following. With her uniquely wry and funny admissions and insights, Guisewite unearths the humor and horror of from the mundane (trying to bring in her parents to TiVo and facing four decades' well worth of unorganized photos) to the profound (finding an objective post-pension, assisting parents downsize their lives and declaring freedrom from all those points which hold us back). Now Guisewite returns with her signature wit and warmth with this debut essay collection about another time of big transition, when everything starts changing and disappearing without permission: aging parents, aging children, aging self stuck in the middle. Her hilarious and deeply relatable look at the difficulties of womanhood in a changing globe became a cultural touchstone for females everywhere."As the creator of "Cathy," Cathy Guisewite discovered her way in to the hearts of visitors more than forty years ago, and provides been there since." Heartfelt and humane and constantly cathartic, Fifty Things THAT ARE NOT My Fault can be ideal reading for mothers, daughters, and anyone who is caught somewhere among.
