A Great Place to begin I started looking for books about normal skincare after it was suggested to me that maybe my chemical filled beauty routine may be causing my infertility. the second half with natural skin care recipes, etc, didn't appeal if you ask me, but I'm providing it to somebody who does enjoy producing her own skin creams and cleansers. I have been intrigued with the kind of beauty remedies Queen Esther would have done and then did a Bible Study including Esther last year which rekindled my curiosity and when I searched for info on the topic, this publication came up. I finished the bulk of the book during the period of 3 evenings, but I completed the 28 times of devotions today. I am informing every woman I know about this book! My husband is even using a few of the ideas.
