As an internationally respected teacher and lecturer on the Twelve Stage method introduced by Alcoholics Anonymous, Joe McQ knows that sponsorship is an integral construct for the success of the program because it involves moving a person through the Twelve Step procedure to recovery. AA sponsors need to refocus on the Big Reserve, on the Twelve Measures, and on the message, urges McQ, to identify the value of this program and to go back to its roots and essence. Directed to sponsors, that is a companion publication to The Methods We Took, offering tools for helping others discover recovery and new life through the Twelve Step plan." Carry This Message addresses McQ's concern that sponsors possess lost some skills in working with alcoholics. In the early times of AA, sponsors would come to the alcoholic's home and talk him through Steps 1 and 2, and when they were completely convinced he was prepared, they might start him on the program. Step 12 is the base of sponsorships: "Having got a spiritual awakening as the consequence of these guidelines, we tried to transport this message to alcoholics, to practice these principles in every our affairs.
