For more than 30 years, Making Lifestyle More Livable has served as an indispensable resource for older adults with eyesight loss and their families, providing practical tips and easy adaptations and adjustments for improving the security and safety of older adults within their homes. The chapter on additional health conditions has also been expanded to add the specific ways each condition affects vision. The newest edition also provides a fresh, vibrant appear, with color photos illustrating basic and effective solutions for old adults to keep living independent, effective lives. The revised and updated third edition includes details on current technology and independent living products, and also an updated Resource Guideline, in addition to general recommendations and room-by-room specifics. A whole new chapter describes simple skills for moving around safely inside the home and provides suggestions for preventing falls.
