I had previously browse this reserve from our library and ... I had previously go through this book from our library and I purchased it for a friend who lives in Sioux Town where the crash took place. A great story of wish and healing ! superb communication-A good ebayer+++++++thanks again for a Arrived safely(5/13/15) and packed very well-thanks for your quick response &. Everybody loves this book! it was a well written book ,its better to read it once you go through 232 by laurence gonzales which tells about the whole flight,i paid attention to capt al haynes the pilot at the eaa in oshkosh which peaked my interest Extreme heroism in the face of Certain Death This guy, Mr Schemmel, runs into a burning up plane to retrieve a crying small small child to save lots of its life before a plane explodes.If you do not see the heroism by this brave courageous guy; I felt like was right there with him Four Stars books were in good shape. He is now a tone of voice for the CO rockies and is also a Christian and born once again and a family group man. It was therefore inspirational. Heard him at the CO Springs mayor breakfast two years ago Five Stars I enjoyed this book very much. Chosen to Live An excellent memoir in regards to a man who suffered a horrific incident and lived to tell on the subject of his very personal experience!!!. family and family members over the years Never ever written an assessment before for anything. However, I felt the necessity to do therefore, as I have bought about 10 copies of this publication and delivered it to close friends, family and family members over the years.. The publication brought back many recollections and was especially interesting because it was a personal, first hand story of the experience and the consequences. and packed very well-thanks a lot for your quick response & then you have not even read Chosen to Live. .!. Five Stars I loved this book, cannot put it down. its easier to read it after you read 232 by laurence . superb communication-A good ebayer+++++++thanks a lot again for a great book and have a great day!!
