Recipes for Color Cosmetics This is another excellent book from Karin Bombelli. I've most of her publications and this is the most comprehensive. I was a bit dismayed that lots of the recipes were the same aside from the coloration but for a novice aesthetic formulator or a home craftsperson, this might be excellent. We are an award winning aesthetic formulator, and I train others to make natural cosmetics and skincare products. I take advantage of her books as my textbooks when conducting a class because they are simple to use and the formulas are easy to duplicate, even though you haven't made cosmetics before. A lot of info here! The only bad thing about the book is they become if you could have two Bunsen-burners and some beakers on hand for many projects. If I try these projects, they'll be made in small pots on a normal stove as I'd not be making them for resale. It even acquired a chart where one can look at range of percentages the normal ingredients would be used in. Great book If you want to make your own cosmetics, this book has easy recipes and also more difficult recipes. I priced what it would cost to create gel eyeliner, it was $34 in ingredients easily didn't choose the triglycerides that were just provided in a gallon size for $68 as the tiniest size.. I wanted to make my very own mineral makeup and this book has been the main one I keep heading back to. It has details on a lot of ingredients... Not worth it Book is principally for the reader to get their products. Pretty awesome! I love the quality recipes for lips and the powder cosmetics (powder eyeshadow, foundation and blush) however the cream eyeshadow is left something to be desired.. verify the INCI name or replace with another ingredient that does the same thing. If you are likely to make items for yourself, you might want to look into ready produced bases you melt color and pour into containers. and I work in a lab, therefore I think I can safely say I understand some chemistry. But other than this, the review is great! I probably consider it at least once a day. Haven't attempted the cream foundations, but I don't wear cream basis, hence the key reason why. The instructions are easy to comprehend, you don't need to be considered a chem expert to comprehend or follow, very self-explanatory, which means this is fool evidence. can't explain why my cream eyeshadows were a bust though :(Recipes for color cosmetics I do such as this book... I really do hope by enough time I'm ready to make they have a smaller size available for that item. it has great recipes .. I've attempted three different quality recipes for the cream shadows provided in this book plus they all end up really difficult as rocks. I do definitely not follow to a T but if you are interested in formulating your own cosmetics this review is very helpful.. The cream blushes are nice as well, but they make me break out. All the recipes include ingredients from producing cosmetics (which is definitely reputable supplier) nevertheless, you do not need to make special orders if you see what the specific ingredient is certainly &... You'll save tons being able to figure out how to formulate your own bases yourself. No alternatives whatsoever. So pleased that I purchased this book now I can put it to use. If you want to do this as a business or in bulk, that is a great book. So happy that I bought this book now I can put it to use. Excellent to make your very own cosmetics. It even gives you the step. Lots of information Haven't made anything from the book yet and it looks like it takes a lot of other products to make lipstick have no idea if I'll utilize it or not. It won't tell you how to mix your personal colors but it will inform you how to make the most different types of products. This is an excellent reference book gifted a gift for child, she had wanted this for awhile. I really do believe she is terrifically pleased with the recipes.
