I just love this book! The rest is all true to life experiences of actual cases she dealt with and the amazing results received. I love the idea, that this book not only addresses children, but also parents, health staff and other interested in assisting out, with this outstanding and easy selfhelping tool called EFT. Deborah Miller assists kids (and adults) understand some highly complex physiology through her easy to comprehend explanation of the features of your body. She carefully teaches the children how to help their bodies battle the disease they have through a remarkable tapping technique called Emotional Independence Technique or EFT. The beautiful graphics and Tappy Bear pull one in to the story and aid in bringing it to life. I would recommend this wonderful publication for kids who are receiving treatment for an extremely frightening disease. I discovered of Deborah Miller's function in Oaxaca and was deeply transferred by the video clips of the Children and Oncology doctors and nurses using tapping to lessen stress, decrease stress and fear, and also cope with painful procedures and distressing, uncomfortable emotional and physical side effects of chemotherapy.. The illustrations are calming and lovingly rendered. Each child's tale is a trip of the center and a lesson in courage and love. At the same time Deborah explains the technique grounded in neuroscience and 5,000 years of Chinese Acupuncture, cites the most recent developments of an evergrowing body of scientific evidence of efficacy, she really honors these courageous and resilient kids, their own families and their dedicated medical and nursing providers-and through the reserve I kept thinking of kids and parents I desire I could have helped with EFT, simply as Deborah Miller is doing in Oaxaca for the past 7 years. WE NEED TO GET THE TERM OUT TO PEDIATRIC ONCOLOGY TREATMENT CENTERS ABOUT THIS WONDERFUL BOOK AND THIS EMPOWERING SELF-HELP TOOL We was a Pediatric Oncology Social Worker for 15 years at Seattle Children's Medical center, where I served both English and Spanish (and some Brazilian Portuguese) speaking households going through the trauma of cancer diagnosis, treatment, relapse and bereavement. Also she describes the problems faced, as every scenario is different and manuals you on how best to apply your personal intuition for best results. Come let Deborah and Tappy take you by the hands and gently guide you through your treatment. I was so excited to get Deborah's beautiful book in English and Spanish- which actually delivers on its guarantee to Help Children with SERIOUS DISEASE Improve the Quality of Their Lives. Parents, kids, medical staff and others who treatment for or work with children will all find something here for weathering and triumphing through dark and uncertain times. I agree with a prior reviewer who said "All children and parents should have a copy of the book. Deborah was extremely fortunate to cross paths with an open-minded Pediatric Oncologist, and that physician was also extremely fortunate to see the results of his personnel and patients and their own families learning an easy, fun approach to self-empowerment to free themselves of stress, fear and discomfort.. Peggy Mangan RN Getting Through the Challenging Stuff Deborah's love for supporting children and their own families through serious disease shines through every page.! Adult cancer sufferers, their own families and medical caregivers would also find this a terrific resource. Please do purchase this reserve- and consider donating to The Oaxaca Task so that Deborah can keep providing the books to children like the types whose stories you will be moved by, together with the beautiful illustrations and well-arranged teaching Deborah provides. As a Speech-Language Pathologist, I work with children with special requirements and also have recommended this to my customers and their families with extremely positive feedback. I plan to use them with some adult customers, especially the one about needle phobia! An excellent resource for family members with children with lifestyle threatening illnesses This is a beautifully written and illustrated book for families to learn ways to help their children with life threatening illnesses. The EFT techniques help the kids relax when facing difficult and scary lab tests and treatments, which provides families courage to go through the journey with their kids. Even though all the treatments are not plenty of, getting present in this manner helps them all to share the final journey. There is so very much love evident through all of these stories. Deborah has given a tremendous gift of like and laughter to the children, to their families, and to the personnel at the cancer hospital, and now to all of those other globe by documenting these precious stories. recommend this book.! I like the publication because I just have to open the publication, read the phrases and tap together with the kid. Whoever has experience in EFT understands: it helps in seconds - you merely have to do it. An amazing book! This book is filled with practical, helpful knowledge for children with cancer, and their parents. I'm getting SO influenced by her words, that I feel like helping somebody at this time, eventhough I don't actually understand anybody in this kind of need right now.. It is also BEAUTIFUL with color throughout and gorgeous illustrations. Excellent resource for anybody wanting to reduce stress and anxiety in their lives. I would recommend this reserve wholeheartedly! Empowering tales, beautifully illustrated. Superb resource for learning strategy to reduce fears and anxiety associated with surgical procedure and beyond. It really is filled up with tapping practices kids can use, which helps with their emotions of powerlessness and overall wellbeing. Wonderful and helpful Deborah Miller applied EFT in the children's cancers wing of a hospital in Oaxaca since 2007, and this book is about how exactly she assists those children in eliminating anxiety, fear and tension. Beautiful stories of children understanding how to help themselves get over fears using tapping. The initial illustrations go together with each child's tale and are truely delightful. Or consider donating some copies to your local Pediatric Hospital! Deborah Miller explains the background and research behind the tapping technique and an illustrated, step-by-step approach guiding readers how to use the technique on their own. A Needed Tool for Everyone Working with Medically Challenged Children This is a significant book that I purchased immediately after hearing the author speak at a national Emotional Independence Conference, The Springtime Energy Event 4/2018. This publication is a required tool if you are dealing with medically challenged children. I plan to use it myself and talk about it with the Child Life Specialists in a healthcare facility. - Robin Bilazarian, LCSW, DCEP, DCSW. National EFT Trainer and Writer of Tapping the Mighty Brain - Simple Solutions for Tension, Conflict, and Discomfort.! I highly recommend it to anybody thinking about EFT (Tapping) Tap tap tap :) Absolutely fabulous book. Five Stars Great book! Very practical! I'm overwhelmed and hopefull!.. It's obtainable in English and Spanish aswell as on Kindle. Every family should have this genius book in the bookshelf. Deborah Miller shows her skill, passion & most important a genuine desire and abbility to greatly help children in need and their families. It comes from Deborah Miller's experiences teaching EFT tapping to kids in hospitals. As a survivor of a uncommon stage IV cancer resulting in a bone marrow transplant, I augmented my healing with this easy to use technique and continue steadily to utilize it nine years later. You Can merely just copy her suggestions in to your situation. Merete Bohn Nielsen, Denmark A Real Life Practical How-To Reserve on Helping your son or daughter with Serious Illness Deborah offers done an amazing job of putting in print an amazing guideline for parents facing a significant medical condition with the youngster. There is no theory in this reserve, except the reason of what tapping is normally and the fundamentals for doing it. I simply love this reserve, The Dragon with Flames of Love! When I started training for Certification as an EFT Practitioner 4 years ago, I was amazed at the effectiveness of tapping on acupuncture meridian points for quick comfort while tuning directly into a physical pain or psychological distress,for myself 1st,and then the customers I was working with. I like how she explains the flexibility to adapt a session to an amazing array to situations. It is a must have book for parents, caretakers and anyone involved in assisting an ill and scared child and themselves. Brilliant, beautiful, empowering publication!! The first portion of the book explains how exactly to tap, the second and main component contains step-by-step manuals for various typical circumstances that a child with a serious illness experiences during the treatment. This is a wonderful resource for children and families who are dealing with serious disease. The illustrations are beautiful, and capture the beauty and personality of the kids featured. Each tale is exclusive yet universal. The guidelines are clear and loving. Strongly suggested!" And I'd add: especially Sufferers, Parents and Suppliers of all outpatient and inpatient medical services- from Oncology through the gamut of life-threatening and heart-wrenching illness and conditions observed in modern Pediatric Treatment!! I love how this actually empowers children in the face of really scary encounters, and promotes emotional and (probably!) physical recovery.. The tapping scripts are amazing!! I had the satisfaction of meeting the writer recently in Oaxaca, and she's as loving and radiant personally as in her excellent book!! a must go through for tappers with children a wonderful book.
