

Tim Ryan

From Dope to Hope: A Man in Recovery

Addiction and heroin abuse didn't make Tim Ryan a better person, but recovery offers redeemed his years. Drug abuse of heroin and alcoholic beverages stole over fifty percent his life. But he has dedicated every waking minute since walking out of prison to dealing hope to addicts and their families. As a recovering addict, Tim is now known as The Hope Seller. "This is the addict's journey: how it happens, how it progresses, and how it ends. This story chronicles Tim's grueling journey into addiction, loss, and recovery. • As the founder of A Man in Recovery Basis and motivational speaker, Tim's mission is to help one addict at the same time transform their lives from dope to hope. • As a business head in a high-tech industry, Tim made and lost hundreds of thousands. • As a father and spouse, Tim paved just how for his own son to use deadly drugs. • As a heroin addict, Tim is a walking miracle. He offers overdosed eight moments, was pronounced clinically dead three times, and suffered two minimal heart attacks. He has been arrested more than ten occasions and served prison time alongside known gang leaders—a lot of whom became his closest confidants in recovery." He was an invited guest to the 2016 State of the Union Address. Tim is a featured thought-leader in numerous national media, including USA Today, Newsweek, and on "The Steve Harvey Display.D. Walk with him as family members are torn from his reach. Drew" Pinsky, M. He's also a successful entrepreneur, a nationally ranked barefoot drinking water skier—and a truth-talking, convicted felon. Thankfully, this is also the journey of recovery: how it happens, and how it blossoms. There's always wish." — "Dr. Rejoice with him as lives are miraculously recovered. Sit down with Tim in his prison cell.
