"When Great Grandma Lillian resided in a home, her musical Wednesdays weren't spent alone. Both adults and kids will enjoy this sweet message of how exactly to talk about their lives with the elderly. Yet no one going to would dance to the beat. Children will also have fun looking for the musical symbol hidden in each detailed Xmas illustration. She collected with others for music--a treat!" The beautiful illustrations and rhyming verses in this children's publication show how a daughter and her grandson helped Great Grandma, and others living at the assisted living home, to "Rock & Roll".

What a joy it was to talk about this tale with my own children! Thank you Rose for touching the lives of many residents when you came to visit your mother at Union Courtroom! A particular addition that my children loved was trying to find the hidden musical symbols on each web page.
