Fun with Fifo The kids really enjoyed this book and cherished making the faces along with Fifo. Silly was a big strike. The large mirror by the end was a great touch. Everyone loved discussing what made us content or sad, etc. An extra bonus to our library. A Need to for your kids! I bought this publication for my granddaughter's 1st birthday, and it's just adorable! Love Fifo! A wonderful addition for parents and teachers for their toolkit. Our grandson was engaged and thrilled. Another FIFO strike! As a psychologist, I use kids to explore and communicate their emotions which delightful book is a great help. Hayley Rose is a talented writer and artist. That one is crucial for your kids. A Happy Publication for Children My grandchildren adored Fifo. Besides all of the color and imagination FIFO brings, she loves searching at the mirror inside and viewing her own emotions. My grandson loves Fifo! My two year aged grandson loves the Fifo The Bear books. His first terms include Fifo!!! The author, Hayley Rose, names a full range of feelings and the artist, Mark Sean Wilson, captures them with unique and whimsical illustrations that children can relate to. This is a wonderful book for parents to learn to children also to interact with the kid when doing so. Love all the Fifo books! Helping Kids Understand Emotion Today I Feel is an inspiring reserve for small children, needed by parents, teachers and other professionals. Like the Fifo Books! "Today PERSONALLY I THINK Emotion" is a good way to open a significant dialogue with your children. It's a fun cuddle and read reserve for me personally, as well!
