For yourself or someone you care about, let's deal with hearing loss jointly!! Darrow thank you for the information and I look forward to your own future research and work. Darrow, I seen he has used a special street to helping people understand how significant cognitive decline can/will become if hearing loss is not treated. Few data from medical or scientific tests are presented to support the author's promises. Great work Dr. But the book had not been 'doom-and-gloom', actually it really targets the positive outcomes discovered with the new 'brain hearing' technology. Great information Four Stars Excellent read. I was among the fortunate ones that was screened and diagnosed from an early age group and with the support of my family I have been able to benefit from hearing aids, cochlear implants, and relevant assisitive technology (AT). I've witnessed and continue steadily to witness the frustrations of my grandfather, mother, brother, and among my sons as they struggle(d) with their very own hearing loss. Just what a journey it's been! Dr. Darrow will a fantastic job bridging the research, economic, and emotional elements that come along with this national epidemic. It's therefore important for better health and pleasure in our later years. Awareness is normally everything and I am thankful that resource exists for the millions who simply have no idea where to start. Bravo! Important That is information everyone should know. I can attest that what he shares is definitely possible from my perspective. I will gladly advise that people go through it at least once. Darrow wrote this thoughtful, all encompassing reserve in words we are able to all understand. This reserve really hit home to me. I came across this book to be extremely informative and gave me an improved understanding of what's involved with hearing loss. Very Informative! Dr. It promotes the writer and the hearing help devices he desires the reader to get. I feel so much more in the know after this book, and I am sure to encourage all of my loved ones to keep up their hearing healthcare.
