My 11 year aged son LOVED this book My 11 year aged son LOVED this publication. Although, he do read it VERY quickly, like too quick probably. One night. There's no focus on what the military does for our nation in terms of the sacrifices produced and what they're taking a stand for. He watches action movies on Netflix etc., which means this was just fine. My son adored it! I didn't think it had been too gruesome. It is an awesome concept, that got my child actually reading, and interested. Which is the whole concept. This is a great addition to our school library This is an excellent addition to your school library.It was simply as described and arrived very quickly. Great. Completely worth it in the event that you ask me. Unquestionably inappropriate for kids. It is crucial that young males have got books that they prefer to read, which can be difficult for boys that are even more hands-on and athletic. I like this series because it's adventurous and meets his passions. reluctant reader? While this may be good for the 13+ crowd, the book is NOT okay for small children. Five Stars my 5th grade boys love these books! 9 year old boy loved it I haven't go through it, but my 9 year aged raved about it. He's a great reader but actually picky in what he really wants to read- lately he's been thinking about military topics so I attempted this and he enjoyed it, both the subject matter and the "select your personal adventure" theme. The only thing is definitely he blew through it very quickly so I'll have to keep these books arriving! Five Stars Fun books for kids, but while parents we enjoyed it also. Four Stars interesting reading. My son loved it! My kindergartener brought this house from his elementary school library. Extremely popular with a reluctant reader third grade boy. It's mainly about killing. It identifies the enemy as "targets" and as you might guess, the target is to destroy them all. It creates sure to specify that only guys are allowed in the special forces. My 6 yr old no longer wants to sign up for the armed service when he grows up and has said if his daddy would the military, he wouldn't allow him. The intent may possibly be to learn different scenarios, but my son of course did not -- he just wished to observe if he resided or passed away. To begin, it's written as a choose your own experience which is certainly neat, but this is about making choices that get you or your group killed. Probably my harmful to not pre-reading this before we go through it at bedtime, but I assumed anything that made it to the elementary college library would be ok.Thank You for your outstanding support.. will buy from Great..will buy from again
