The title says it all! What I LOVE concerning this book is that ALL the video games/activities are linked at the beginning of the publication so that you do not have to skim through a chapter searching for a game/activity that you 'know' will there be but is eluding you! BRILLIANT! Each activity/game has a chart at the beginning titled across the top: What you'll need * All ages * Babies * Toddlers * Preschoolers * School-age children This publication is organized in to the following themes/chapters: Rainy Day Fun * Let's Pretend * Music and Movement * Outdoor Adventures * On trips * Learning and Exploring * Team Friends * World Close friends * Arts and Crafts * In your kitchen * Months and Holidays Do you have some feathers lying around? Pretend you will definitely the moon! HIGHLY RECOMMENDED! Turn your living space into an animal hospital for all you soft toys. Feather Frenzy will highlight three activities related to those feathers. I must say i needed help with ideas to keep my grandson busy in this miserable spring weather. I love the ideas what to do with your kids and my Child likes it. I'm sure your children are no different than ours in that they combat and squabble sometimes! A great resource reserve! There are also some recipes included that children will help you make and eat altogether. Chapter 7's Team Friends includes a host of activities regarding working, living, creating and playing together. Pages and pages of recommendations so even if you do not like one, you should another. Think about being mail guys/women? Great used copy, filled with guidelines for playdates, we are delighted!
