

LIKE TREES WALKING

IN THE SECOND HALF OF LIFE

JANE SIGLOH

Jane Sigloh

Like Trees Walking: In the Second Half of Life

continue reading

Most of us are approaching fast the "golden years" of retirement, wondering with fear ? and hope ? what the near future keeps for us. And you also won't look for a better companion for the trip of aging than Jane Sigloh. Dip into these chapters and discover a refreshing perspective, a humorous anecdote, or an intimate confession that will ring true to your own knowledge. She interweaves the insights of Scripture, poetry, fiction, and philosophy into her thoughts and reflections on the problems and opportunities that maturity brings. A retired Episcopal priest, she is possessed of both reverent awe and irreverent honesty about the reality and fantasies of growing old. She's witty, perceptive, and wise.

continue reading

