An extraordinary reproduction of the initial functioning manuscript of the Big Book of Alcoholics Anonymous, with an introduction and notes by way of a panel of celebrated AA historians. The countless changes that were made in dark, green, and reddish on each page are shown. An extraordinary reproduction of the original working manuscript of Alcoholics Anonymous, with essays and notes by a panel of celebrated AA historians. This is ideal for your coffee table. 5" tall, with a 22. In January 1939, Wilson and various other AA founders distributed 400 copies of his typescript to everyone they could think about "who might be concerned with the issue of alcoholism," to try out the program. As the mortgage copies were returned, suggestions for revision were considered and written out in colored pencil on one master duplicate that was ultimately submitted for publication. The many changes made in black, green, and red about page after page are demonstrated here in their original form, revealing the views, debates, and discussions that went into making the Big Book. The Publication That Started It All offers fresh insights into the history and foundation of the revolutionary Alcoholics Anonymous plan. The Publication That Started EVERYTHING weighs a lot more than five pounds, is 11.5" span when open. Reproduced in this elegant present edition with essays and notes by way of a panel of celebrated AA historians, the initial working manuscript is the missing link inside our knowledge of what transpired between AA founder Expenses Wilson's first draft of Alcoholics Anonymous and the first released edition. 25" wide and 13.
