? If you want cooking and crafting producing your own makeup could be a great new activity.... Excellent book Beautiful photographs and useful information in addition to the recipes. I assume the title says it all, HOW TO MAKE PURE MINERAL MAKE UP. There are not any plant based make up recipes. Or many 100 % natural ingredients. The author even recommends purchasing lab created minerals and products to make her recipes (which she explains is because they're more "genuine" than earthen material). Very easy to understand I feel very confident having this by my aspect. She does clarify how exactly to press powders, but says all of her quality recipes are meant to be kept loose!? If you want to make bright shades of eyeshadow, I wouldn't recommend this book. Not what I was looking for, but you might like it! If you want to make natural tones, well, all of the colors are earthy (which are lovely). For someone seeking to make powders from nutrients like mica, iron oxides, etc, you might like the book. Fast shipping, can't wait to start reading it! I wish to make plant based make up from natural ingredients, or at least natural ingredients that aren't created in a lab. Great DIY book Exceptional book for DIY makeup. A book I'm actually enjoying studying. I'm working on formulating a powder with a foundation of arrowroot, rice powder, etc. and I'm hoping to find a book which has quality recipes using clays, herbs, plants, spices, dried fruits, etc for coloring. I've been experimenting a bit by myself, and would like several tried and true quality recipes that I haven't currently found on the internet. Lots of dishes for eyeshadow! The publication is plentiful in that subject, very organized, and nice photos, not for me. Well done! This saved me hours and hours of research. Though my objective is to create a makeup line (for myself) that is as natural as you possibly can, all the ingredients and details she's included in this book supply the base I want. I'd recommend this to anyone interested in the art of fabricating makeup. I don't know why I was beneath the impression that book was going to offer you recipes for make up made from natural ingredients. I value the modern take on making make-up and the natural concentrate of the quality recipes. I'm returning this publication because I was looking for a a lot more natural option. Beautifully done! This book is great! All of the recipes are for loose powder made from colored micas, iron oxides, ultramarines, titanium dioxide, zinc oxide etc. Well researched. I already wear mineral make up and it is not worth it for me to need to buy all of the minerals to create it and the time. If you're searching for a publication to immediate you on creating make up with lab created minerals, this book could be for you. I really like all of the pictures showing the eyeshadow colors. Make your own A great book. And what can I say, making makeup is a lot of fun! I discovered a whole lot about making my own makeup Exactly what I expected! I'm returning it. Great DIY makeup book full of great quality recipes with fun names Creating your own makeup is the ultimate method to get the perfect color within an organic healthy method. This book covers from supplies, tools, and color assistance. A fun area of the book are the great names of the colors-as with most make up the names could be fun to "constitute" ---pun intended :) The recipes also offer substitutions therefore can simply be made if you have a stash of the basics..
