Snail Mail Inspiration! Perfect for a family project if children wanted to participate, but works ideal for adults, family, friends, etc. Can't wait around to get sending a few of these. Thoughtful and Fun Top quality, great photos and great text/writing prompts. I tend to not really send many postcards because Personally i think like they're too short, or not so meaningful. If you're a snail mail lover, a pen pal, a 52 Lists Project fanatic, or if you're searching for a nice gift for someone who's moving away, I recommend this postcard collection. The set up of these cards, being lists of 5 stuff each, is usually adorable and inspires me to send more mail. High-quality cardstock, gorgeous designs, and thoughtful creation. Get off your phone, sit down, and write some snail mail notes to those you love. A beautiful way to connect for reals What a beautiful postcard set for catching up with family and friends old-school style!
