This is a lighthearted information to the perfect make-up, made simple. This is a handbook for all women who have grown up NOT grown old. There is no need to rush out and spend money on new make-up. Make-up is a clever tool that enhances every woman's inner beauty that botox and plastic surgery never replaces. Once the sight is failing, the eye are sagging and the wrinkles need ironing, there is still a method to look great and feel better. Open that dressing desk drawer and rummage through all those beautifying items that you cherished the look of, and don't learn how to use, because the "consultant" on the counter was on top of sales focus on and low on caring tips.
