Living In Beauty I highly recommend Living in Beauty. It breaks down the mystical misunderstandings of these historic sciences and sheds light on the issues and healing treatments of today's mental and physical, and spiritual illnesses. This publication can be a validation for what I've seen and have sensed is most effective for children to allow them to feel protected and develop loving interactions. The section of the publication that I came across to be the most profound and validating is usually his section on kids and their well getting. I've intuitively felt that kids need to be with their mother, who stays at home for at least a few years and ideally for many in order for them to have a good basis for harmonious living. God bless Joseph Kurian. He also addresses the issue of birth and discusses how placing the kid on the mother's upper body and not slicing the umbilical cord until after it stops pulsing actually helps. My intuition tells me that these practices are more healthy and organic than what typically goes on in many hospitals in the United States. I am an educator. Read Live In Beauty! It helps one to understand a different modality of healing. A genuine gem among the best from ancient herbal arts Surviving in Beauty is a remarkable book that delves deep in to the most ancient of vedic sciences, Dhanur Veda and Kalaripayat and is told by the Grasp himself. I was fascinated with his life experience and his unique recovery abilities that have made him known throughout the world. Joseph Kurian is usually a gifted healer which reserve helps one have an improved knowledge of what he does and how it operates. Joseph requires these complex eastern sciences and brings them to us in easy and simple to understand way and helps us to understand the true meaning of beauty. This reserve is wonderfull in its ability to describe simply some highly complex ideas, and to motivate you to a pure vision of yourself. Therefore eloquently written, I came across myself reading and re-reading each phrase to absorb whenever you can. Not only a fascinating and educating browse but a practical guide that i know I will use as my wellness "bible". A client of Joseph Kurian's going back few years, I instantly felt and saw the positive and existence altering effects of Joseph's creams, herbs and oils and rejuvenation treatments. Now I fully understand the history and methodology of his function and why I now feel better than I could ever remember. Just what a amazing gift God has given us through Joseph Kurian.. Fantastic. Living in Beauty is simple and obvious in describing the daily self help practices of the Vedic tradition.. I've meditated with Saints and been to among the best Ayur Vedic healers, Network Chiropractors, Reiki masters, on the planet. Joseph can easily and accurately offer you all of the answers you have already been searching for. a genuine gift it was. From the within out. It's a must buy! As the publication describes, Joseph was created gifted and studied a long time with masters of herbology, Indian fighting techniques etc, and has continuing even further to function towards a genuine vision of "perfect health". I have bought 3 for myself and others. Joseph talks about how children do greatest when they are home their mother for at least twelve months and ideally for 3 years and are breasts fed for a 12 months and a half. Impactful and of enduring value I came across myself reading Joeseph Kurian's book nearly non stop. I've read most of the current offerings of this type of Ayur Veda and Indian literature. Additionally, the book contains several extremely effective types of meditation. He ties jointly the connection between your individual and the universe we live in most clearly. The best book i've ever read! Marma science is the root and most powerful factor of any of the Indian healing arts and J. Joseph Kurian provides many insights into the bodies natural ability to rejuvenate. Beautifully Inspirational and Spiritually Informative I received Joseph's book as a gift. Please read Surviving in Beauty and move it along to your adored ones--I have! I've studied health, meditation and martial arts for 25 years. And explain why it is you earn so little improvement with all the help you had recieved. Being truly a Customer of Joseph's and getting privileged to experience his Healing Programs and the use of his items, this book was naturally the next experience for me. Joseph Kurian displays us how to use our gifts from God--our bodies, minds and spirits--to become the most beautiful beings that people can be. This is a beautiful reserve written by a truly beautiful Master. I found Joseph Kurian's book interesting and insightful. "Living In Beauty" is an amazing reserve. Kurian is a genuine Master in that pure oral custom of South India. This book is set aside by the living knowledge it offers for us to make use of on a daily basis to gain maximum health, beauty, and vitality. One you knew was there all along but were not in a position to quite reach.
