In this reserve, model, trainer, and entertainment character Charleston Pierce shares how your walk will help you boost your confidence and tap into your own internal power. How will you use the secrets of supermodels and celebrities to create achievement on the runway you will ever have? If you're ready to shine, end wishing you had been a superstar and start walking like one. Your superstar walk will take you anywhere you would like to go, while it attracts individuals who desire to march with you. Star Walk reveals the same secrets stars use and that means you, too, can step out into the world and encounter your full potential. You'll learn: the story your walk is telling the world, the main element elements of a star walk and how to apply them in your life, why confidence is important and how you may use it to tap into your superstar power, how exactly to use your celebrity walk to achieve success running a business, interviews, and networking, how to interpret and apply body gestures in personal associations, and how to personalize your walk and utilize it to achieve your targets and dreams.
