Because evaluation of behavior problems is going beyond the idea of identification for the purpose of providing a proper intervention program and should result in behavioral improvement, the Mature Attention Deficit Disorders Evaluation Scale (A-ADDES)- Work, House, or Self-Report Version and the Adult Interest Deficit Disorders Intervention Manual (A-ADDIM) were established. Far too often the particular behaviors, deficiencies, or needs, which contribute to the diagnosis of persons mainly because Attention-Deficit/Hyperactivity Disordered, are not translated into regions of treatment/ intervention emphasis. Collectively the A-ADDES and the A-ADDIM contribute to the identification of goals, objectives, and interventions to improve client/patient achievement in the work/college and home environments.
