I have decided to talk about my formulations to all or any and wish this will spark a glow in your being just as it did mine. Creating these makes you feel more linked and nurtured by nature. As just a little girl, I remember my mom using fruits on her behalf face and discovering natural ways of cleaning. But it was not until my being pregnant in 2012 that I took this additional and gave life to the concealed hobby. In this reserve I do not concentrate on the unwanted effects commercial products might have but instead, this book will be a go-to resource book for organic personal care, both for you and your baby. In this book you will find recipes, tips and information on creating lotions, balms, creams, oils, scrubs, masks, shampoos, conditioners, and in addition baby maintenance systems. I prepared all lotions, powders, baby washes, wipes, and acquired everything ready before the birth of my child, Noor, in August 2013.

An incredible compilation of natural homemade products An amazing compilation of natural homemade products. I have personally used Reena's products and they were basic great. I also gifted the products to my friends as I believed that they might appreciate the purity in the products. Now, this book has managed to get easy for all the fans of these products to get ready them by themselves. Such an excellent gesture by Reena and her team. I wish you all the greatest Reena and wait for more such books;! Excellent tips Wow! even though some of the merchandise have short life time as they are without preservative chemical substances and requires to retain in the fridge, liked almost all, especially the products for baby care.I highly recommend this reserve to anyone seeking to go all natural!! Because of this author who provides reviled the secrets to healthful DIY remedies for personal and baby care products! The world really needs such products :) liked almost all Quite an informative book and the crucial thing is all organic. A wealth of information! Many thanks, Reena! Reena's guidelines are simple, use minimal devices and with many products that probably already can be found in your kitchen! Couldn't ask for more. Now to really have the recipes of all the items I trust, and more, is the cherry on top! I've used those items for some time now and they been employed by wonders for me, and my kids. I have used many of Reena's products from her Etsy shop and was therefore excited when I learned she was going to share those recipes! Love love!! Greatest assortment of dishes for DIY cosmetics with all natural basic products. Thanks Reena. It's good to know everything you are applying on your own body. There are such harsh chemicals that are place in our over-the-counter cosmetics which produce a variety of complications later on. I would suggest this publication to anyone who's searching for natural and an easy way to keep healthy. Simple ingredients, and great results!(Forever grateful, Kavli) Quality Knowledge Amazing knowledge!
