I cannot thank Zippora Karz plenty of for sharing her story in a way that obviously has linked to my granddaughter. My 10-year-previous granddaughter was diagnosed with T1D within the past month. It has been a rough street. My wife and I had this book sent to her and, Wow, just what a hit! The text and illustrations are reasonable- not cartoony just like the books we got from the hospital. My granddaughter loves it!. She is doing fairly well up to now, but it's a lot for a kid to process. This book is certainly a breath of fresh air for both of us. My child has requested that people read this each day since it emerged in the mail. It really is inspiring to discover that the main character "Zippy" continues to dance and lives a complete lifestyle despite her diabetes. I believe the stunning and tasteful illustrations of insulin, syringes, etc. are superb. My daughter told me my granddaughter has recently read it many times (and that's after only three days), and her sister in addition has read it. Wonderful book! Great book for kids with Type One Diabetes My daughter was diagnosed with Type One Diabetes this past year. which she couldn't really relate with. Great book!. Sweet book to talk about with this newly diagnosed kids with diabetes! The Diabetes Foundation of Mississippi includes these inside our We Care backpacks, and they are extremely well received. Many thanks! Goodbook Love it a lot . I think all girls would enjoy this story of not quitting. All girls, not just types with T-1 diabetes. Great buy! If you have a kid (or know a kid) with Type One diabetes I would GET this!
