Behind Closed Doors tells the story of two moms who began investigating serious medical issues in their own child and daughter. In their relentless attempts to boost the health of their own children, they uncovered harmful tendencies in our food, pharmaceuticals, and environment, all stemming from weak laws and conflicts of interest, and ended up composing an expose about the declining wellness of a whole generation of American kids, equipping and inspiring us all to stand collectively for change. Behind Closed Doors not only offers scientifically verified evidence of how declining industry procedures are harming our kids, but showcases solutions like environmental medicine and other integrative wellness practices, shares personal success stories, and provides tools and solutions parents can instantly put into action. What they discovered shocked and eventually empowered them to obtain actively involved with questioning and reforming these harmful, out-of-balance practices, also to inspire other mothers to do the same.

It's so well crafted with such an important message. I'm so glad I know what I understand now. This publication is a must read!. As a mom and teacher, every parent should read "NOWADAYS". I cannot wait to give copies to all or any the moms I know to allow them to help their children to prosper and live the healthy lives they deserve. In compelling but everyday language the authors, Joanne Stanton and Christine O'Donnell, show how the health of our kids has been broken by chemicals in our food, products and environment. Also included is definitely a resource guide to help you become a critical customer for the advantage of your family's health!! Its a well crafted, balanced, fair, accurate and well substantiated look at the industries and methods that impact most of us. Thank you- it acquired so much useful info and I'm certainly using this as a source and guide w/ my 5 kids. A must read with such important information! Hats away to these authors/mom's for uncovering such eye-starting truths about our medical/environmental and food industries which have been swept beneath the carpet at the trouble of our children's wellness. A few eye-opening figures: Doubling of childhood asthma over 15 years 300% upsurge in food allergy outpatient appointments over 10 years Ten and forty-fold boosts in ADHD and youth bipolar disorder As moms of children afflicted with heart breaking diseases (except the hearts of these women were hardly ever broken, because they never stopped fighting for their kids) the authors asked "why". And they inform you of the barrage of chemical substances which bombard our kids's bodies, at ages and stages when they and their immune systems are most vulnerable. The assault comes from the myriad additives to our processed food, and the chemical modifications to our whole food; A Must For All Who Care About Their Health Christine O'Donnell and Joanne Stanton outdid themselves. Throughout it all, the authors hardly ever overwhelm you with too much information, but there's a Resource Guide at the end of the reserve if, as is almost certain, you would like to learn more. For those who have period for nothing else, browse the chapters on food. Your trip to the supermarket will never end up being the same. I plan to complete this book to everyone I understand & No disease will ever appear incurable, no cause hopeless, once you read what a mother's like can accomplish. I love this book I love this book! It can make me mad but also makes me experience I'm not by yourself and there are choice ways to help my children. Its been a clarifier and tension reliever for me personally. I especially appreciate how the authors weave the important information into the exceptional tale of their lives. It's well-organized and provides awesome resources for more info and fact gathering making taking action and making changes a lot easier to manage. I extremely recommend this original book Inspirational, hopeful health information to initiate modification for our well-becoming and more importantly that of our children. This book gives me the inspiration and the courage to question "the professionals" as a mom/mother or father. This must read reserve presents eye-opening, valuable info regarding hidden medical issues. It's written within an interesting, exciting format expressing details and statistics with inspirational estimates, varied graphics both formal and comical, and emotional personal tales woven together to create a practical read regarding the effect of our environment on our children's wellness. Crazy! I highly recommend this unique book!! "A must read" That is a book that everyone you understand should read regardless of your age. You will come away with more details than you want but so imparitive to learn. The resources are excellent & This is an astonishing publication which is impossible to put down. And, if nothing else, read Chapter 8 and the epilogue. wish they do the same. Nothing will change unless this understanding is passed on. Well written with an important message I LOVE this book! I'm so pleased I know what I understand now Behind Closed Doorways is a must browse for all Mom's (and Dad's for that matter). Five Stars Wonderfully written and eye opening reality to the Chemicals that effect everyone. Definitely recommend! I truly cannot place it down! The cover is also genius...it really captures the essence of the reserve. This book will influence the lives of these who are luckily enough to learn it. Cleverly depicted and informational! This publication is a very easy read that tackles major issues that are affecting the well-becoming of our children and empowers us mom's specifically to stand solid. The authors do a superb work unraveling and talking about the factors influencing our children's health insurance and intertwining it with personal tales. I strongly suggest this publication to anyone ... Excellent book! I strongly recommend this book to anyone who has wondered why our children have so many health problems. Excellent book! You might help but feel empowered after reading these courageous stories! At the end of the book and throughout many helpful suggestions and resources are offered to the reader. This reserve was very eyes opening and I learned a great deal! I love how it's organized- the quotes, the personal stories, and the fine art. Change the life of a child, and change the future. LOVE this book. Behind Closed Doorways is a must read for all parents Behind Closed Doors is a must browse for all parents, if not all persons. Very resourceful details to help make better medical/environmental decisions for yourself and your family. Inspirational to read what these 2 authors endured within their own lives and households to put them on the path to uncovering such truths. Kudos to these 2 females for researching and writing such an informative and eye-opening publication! The authors' writing style is so easy to read. a variety of chemicals in the consumer products we put on, apply and make use of everyday, and the pollutants in the surroundings we breathe and the drinking water we drink. They are two devoted moms who spent 8 years of their lives gathering important info to help other moms improve the wellness of their kids. these writers must have a five star for the work they placed into this book. This book provided achievement stories along with guides and assets to take the energy of our children health/well-beng back and to get to the main of our kids' health problems. NOWADAYS is my number-one recommended book on my reading list. It really is truely an "Eyesight Opener" Many thanks for writing such an informative and heartfelt book .. Frequently we are scared to look for answers to your kids medical complications/ailments and have been taught not to question and simply sit back and listen to "the professionals". Thank you for writing such an informative and heartfelt book. I just wish I had these details years ago.
